Olive Baptist Church

Class Overview

Today, marriages are failing at ever increasing rates. We at Olive Baptist Church believe that much of this is due, in part, to lack of training in the Christian marriage relationship. Few young men and women have had training in God's principles regarding marriage and very little practical guidance in the day-to-day decision making processes facing young married people.

We have developed a class for the engaged or recently married couples that is unique in our church. It is Bible-based instruction regarding the marriage relationship and focuses upon the crucial requirements for a happy marriage. Our theme is oneness and dependence as opposed to separateness and independence.

You can begin anytime and continue until you return to your starting point.

Leadership Profile

Wayne and Beckie have been married since 1968, and have the unique distinction of being baptized on the same night in 1958. Loving the Lord, they have been involved in church work for over 30-years. Wayne is a licensed and ordained minister, and served as pastor of a Southern Baptist Church in El Paso, Texas, for five years. Beckie studied religious education and previously served as children's director in a Southern Baptist church. They were both raised in Pensacola, and call it home.

Wayne holds a B.S. in Management from the University of West Florida and a Master of Arts in Counseling from Luther Rice Seminary. Now he is a Christian counselor in private practice in Pensacola.

Beckie is a full-time homemaker and is pleased to be regarded as a wife suitable for her husband. (Genesis 2:18)

Both Wayne and Beckie are committed to the Biblical ideal for marriage, and teaching those principles and practices to others.
